DELEGATES POURING INTO LOS ANGELES TO ATTEND ELKS NATIONAL CONCLAVE

For several days special trains bearing delegates to the 1921 Elks' convention, to be held in Los Angeles July 10-16, have been arriving from all parts of the nation, and it is estimated that the total number of visitors attracted may exceed 50,000.

Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, which has a membership of more than 4,000, aided by the various committees in operation has perfected plans to make the entertainment programme for the Elks one of the biggest ever extended as a greeting to any gathering of its kind. This is the third time in twelve years that Los Angeles has been the scene of national assemblies of the Elks, having had the conventions of 1909 and 1915, so entertainment details will necessarily have to be elaborate to eclipse the city's efforts in former years.

The first event of the convention week will be a religious service, at the Mason Opera House, conducted by the Elks grand chaplain, the Rev. Dr. John Dysart, of Dubuque, Iowa. On Monday there will be a public session of the grand lodge at Philharmonic Auditorium. Secret sessions of the grand lodge will be held at the same place next Tuesday and Wednesday. William M. Abbott, of San Francisco, Grand Exalted Ruler, will preside.

Three notable parades will be features of the convention and these are expected to eclipse anything of the kind ever held in Los Angeles because of their magnificence and scope. The first will be the Elks parade on next Thursday morning. The same night there will be an elaborate electrical parade featuring floats from the great motion picture studios. On Friday there will be a floral parade, which will be preceded by more than 2,000 musicians.

Many of the lodges are sending their bands and drum corps to Los Angeles. Among the bands will be a seventy-three-piece outfit from Tacoma, a cowboy band from Lewiston, Idaho, and a band from the City of Mexico, to be brought by the Quien Sabe Lodge, El Paso. Members of the Quien Sabe Lodge will be clad in Mexican costumes.

Included among yesterday's incoming delegates were W. W. Mountain, of Flint, Mich., who is slated as the next Grand Exalted Ruler of Elks; and Joseph T. Fanning, of New York, secretary and Past Grand Exalted Ruler. Both took occasion to praise the welcome and hospitality that is being extended by local lodges and predicted that this will be one of the most successful reunions in the history of the Elks fraternity.

Philadelphia's contingent of Elks promises to create a sensation at the reunion in the prominent part they will play as escorts to the Exalted Ruler. It is reported that they not only have a crack drill team but a band of stellar calibre as well, which will give an outdoor concert at Pershing Square during the early part of next week.

Headquarters of the reunion were opened this morning in the lobby of the Pacific Electric Building where incoming delegates will be registered and directed to hotel accomodations. It will be possible also for local Elks to discover brother lodge members from the home town by consulting the register at headquarters.

One thousand delegates and their families are expected from Portland, Oregon, and vicinity, and a like number from Arizona. Various cities are sending delegations as follows, according to information announced today:

Chicago, 400; Philadelphia, 550; Brooklyn, 500; Jersey City, 300; New York, 400; Baltimore, 500; New England States, 500; Tacoma, 250; Seattle, 500; Minneapolis, 250; Jackson and Flint, Mich., 500; El Paso, 500; San Antonio, 350; New Orleans, 500; Detroit, 250; Louisville, 400; Washington, D. C., 450; Columbus, 250; Lewiston, Idaho, 150; Salt Lake City, 450; Omaha, 250; Denver, 200; San Francisco, 150; Sacramento, 350; Atlanta, Ga., 150.

Rockefeller Wins Ford

(By International News Service)

GREENWICH, Conn., July 8.—In the carnival of Greenwich Post, American Legion, just closed, it has been announced that the winner of the Ford sedan automobile was William G. Rockefeller, son of William Rockefeller. It was the thirteenth number drawn which had Mr. Rockefeller's name on the card. The car cost him about $15. By a peculiar coincidence Mrs. Benjamin Strong, daughter of the late E. C. Converse, another prominent resident, was the winner of the Ford commercial car given at the Venetian fete on the estate of the late Commodore E. C. Benedict.

Mr. Rockefeller is out of town, but the car has been taken to his garage. Just what he will do with his new Henry will not be known until his return.

COUNCILMEN ARE TO MAKE STATEMENTS OF CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

City Councilmen had quite a period of scratching their heads to remember details of their expenditures during the political campaign preceding their election after they were informed by City Clerk Sherer and City Attorney Shaw that the law requires that a statement of all campaign expenditures over and above $5, be filed with the county clerk by each candidate elected within fifteen days, with vouchers attached; also that all bills for printing and advertising must be presented to the candidate within ten days. Blanks were distributed to be filled out by Councilmen who had a good deal of sport among themselves over the matter.

SIERRA DISTRICT WILL VOTE AGAIN

W. E. Pelley and a few others present who are interested in the annexation of the Sierra avenue district to Glendale, wore smiles of satisfaction last night when the City Council adopted the resolution prepared by City Attorney Shaw calling an election to vote upon the proposition for August 11.

PAVING OF ORANGE STREET DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL

At the meeting of the City Council Thursday evening at which all members were present with Mayor Spencer Robinson presiding, an early invitation was given to persons in the audience who wished to do so to address the board.

J. E. Peters of 209 North Orange accepted the invitation and inquired as to the status of the proceedings for the opening of Orange street, and just what the assessment levied on property owners had covered.

City Attorney Shaw replied stating that the city had acquired title to the ground and was now in a position to start proceedings for the improvement of the street when desired by residents.

Later in the session Councilman Kimlin brought the matter up again and asked whether proceedings would be started to improve the newly opened street. City Manager Warren suggested as a preliminary that the city engineer be instructed to draft an ordinance establishing the grade but explained that while the council has authority to start improvement proceedings it has been the policy to wait until petitioned to do so by residents. On motion of Councilman Stephenson the council then voted to instruct the city engineer to prepare the ordinance establishing the grade of Orange between Lexington and Doran.

In raising the question Councilman Kimlin said he imagined the residents particularly those north of Doran who had paid assessments for the opening of the street desired to have it improved and if left in a rough condition is made a bad impression on observers, particularly visitors.

ASKS POLICE TO AID IN SEARCH FOR WIFE

The mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Rehberg, 1111 East California avenue, was reported to police headquarters this morning by her husband. According to the report Rehberg was last seen yesterday, at 1310 South Olive street, Los Angeles.

Mr. Rehberg, unable to account for the disappearance of his wife, has asked the local police to assist him in locating her, and gives the following description: Height, 5 feet 2 inches; weight, 145 pounds; blue eyes, light hair; age, 28 years.

Report Case of Leprosy

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The usual crowd of curious filled Judge Roche's courtroom when Lin Fook appeared to answer a charge of murder growing out of the Chinese tong war. He appeared heavily shackled.

"Your honor," began his attorney, "my client is a leper."

The stampede was on. Men and women fought to get to the exits, overturning chairs in their rush.

When quiet was restored only the judge, the prisoner, court attaches and attorneys remained. Lin Fook is held at the isolation hospital and his attorney sought a bail order which would permit removal of his shackles while undergoing treatment there.

THOSE DESIROUS OF CITY JOBS MUST REQUEST SAME IN WRITING

The misunderstanding that appears to exist in the public mind in regard to the appointments that are to be made by the City Council and those to be made by the city manager under the provisions of the city charter were called to the attention of the council by Councilman Stephenson at the meeting last night. He said:

"It has occurred to me that it would be well for the council to instruct the city clerk to prepare a notice to be published giving a list of the offices to be filled by the council and those to be filled by the city manager subject to the approval of the council, so that all prospective applicants for positions to be filled by the city council may file written applications, together with credentials, at any time prior to the making of appointments to offices sought. The suggestion was approved and when embodied in a motion was seconded by Councilman Lipham and unanimously adopted.

Two applications which had been filed with the city clerk were reported last night, one from George W. Bercaw for the position of city manager, the other from James F. McBryde for the position of city attorney.

AGED VETERAN IS VICTIM OF CUPID

After serving the chamber of commerce of Los Angeles faithfully for a period of twenty-five years, in the capacity of secretary, Frank Wiggins fell victim yesterday to the intrigue of Cupid and was married at Orange to Miss Anne Bailee, for fourteen years assistant to the secretary.

Few of Mr. Wiggins' friends knew of his marriage plans and the news leaking out late yesterday afternoon, proved a big surprise to all those who have come in contact with him in his official capacity.

Mr. Wiggins is 74 years old, and his bride 51 years. So far as could be learned, they are planning to return to their home in Ocean Park after a few days' honeymoon.

CITY MANAGER EXPLAINS NECESSITY OF CHARGE FOR COLLECTING THE GARBAGE

At the meeting of the city council last evening the reasons for imposing a temporary charge for the collection of garbage and the whole situation with reference thereto, was set forth by City Manager Watson in a communication which the council voted to have printed and distributed as a dodger, for the enlightenment of the public.

Councilman Stephenson called attention to the fact that a number of cities, notably Santa Barbara, Redlands and Riverside, make this charge as a regular proposition, so Glendale is not setting precedent in adopting the plan.

In response to Councilman Lapham's inquiry as to whether the Grand View district is being served in garbage collection, the city manager stated that Mr. Nelson had arranged to make such collection whenever desired. Mr. Watson's letter follows:

"In regard to the charges for the collection of garbage, waste matter and rubbish, as provided for in ordinance No. 445:

"There has been a little misunderstanding on the part of the public in regard to this matter in that the reasons that made the charge necessary were not well understood and for the further reason that some did not understand that it was a temporary measure. The city has been thoroughly canvassed, however, during the last two weeks and the people generally are responding to this measure without objection, as they come to understand the situation. No doubt, some complaints arising from misunderstanding in regard to this matter have reached the members of your council, and in view of this and also in view of the fact that two of your members were not members of the board of trustees at the time the ordinance regulating this matter was passed, we have thought best to submit the following, which is in a measure a restatement of what has been reported heretofore:

"The policy of the city of Glendale for the past several years has been to collect the garbage and waste matter throughout the city twice a week. The expense of this has been met from revenue from general taxation. During this period these collections have been provided for by contract with private parties who have been paid a sum for the gathering of the garbage and waste matter and have used the garbage for feeding hogs. The service rendered during this period, although not at all times entirely satisfactory, was as good as could be expected under an indirect service.

"The cost of this service under the last contract was $200 per month for gathering the garbage and waste matter, not including the gathering of papers and rubbish in the business district. A few months ago parties having this contract informed the city that it would be impossible for them to continue gathering the garbage and waste matter at that figure. The volume had greatly increased owing to the growth of the city during the last year and a half and the value of garbage for hog feed had greatly decreased.

"The city advertised for bids and the best figure obtained was a proposition to gather the garbage for $500 per month, leaving the city to gather the tin cans and waste matter, which would cost an additional $200 per month.

"It was decided that the city should purchase the necessary equipment and gather the garbage direct, selling the garbage to private parties for hog feed. This necessitated the purchase of a truck and owing to the fact that provision was not made in the budget to take care of this expenditure, the truck was purchased under contract, payment of $266.25 to be made per

K. OF P. LODGE IS BUSY AT PRESENT

At the meeting this week of Glendale Lodge 331, K. of P., many visitors were present, some of whom assisted in the work.

The Page Rank was conferred upon a fine bunch of applicants and the work of the officers was highly commended by the visiting brothers. This lodge has much initiatory work on hand and will have for some time to come. The drive for new members is now on in earnest. The Grand Chancellor has voted our efforts and has promised to assist us in every way possible. The officers are very much encouraged over the prospects that many new members will be enrolled in a short time. Assurance is given that when the membership Drive is completed the entrance fees will be raised.

Every Tuesday night this month will be a top-notcher. The next meeting will be a double invitation of the Page and Esquire Ranks.

On next Sunday, July 10th, will be the date selected for our annual outing or family basket picnic at Griffith Park. It is expected that every Pythian in Glendale will attend with his family and a good time is surely in store for them.

Preparations have been made to call for all who have no auto if they get in touch with the local committee in charge.

PICNIC OF TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Tropico Presbyterian Sunday school, after long delays, will have its annual picnic July 9. The party will leave from the Sunday school rooms at 1 o'clock, by truck and private autos, for Brookside, where the various sports the park affords will be enjoyed and the picnic supper will be served at 5:30. The outing was originally set for May, but was postponed because of the heavy rains.

LUMMIS ROYCE LAID TO REST IN FOREST LAWN CEMETERY

Funeral services for Lummis A. Royce were held Thursday morning, July 7, on his 86th birthday. They were conducted by Rev. W. E. Edmonds and attended by many old friends of the deceased and of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackburn, who resided in Glendale for many years. A nephew from Cleveland, O., who is here for the Congregational convention, was also present and quite a delegation from Chapter L of the P. E. O., of which Mrs. Blackburn is a past president.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn came up from Coachella valley, where they have a ranch, about six weeks ago, and located at 3529 South Flower street, that they might be near the University of Southern California, which their son Robert Blackburn, jr., was attending. The Blackburns may now come to Glendale for a visit, if not to stay.

Tip for Spinsters

(By International News Service)

DENNIS, Mass., July 8.—"You meet true love in a laborer's overalls quite as often as in a tailor-made suit."

So declares Mrs. Lucy S. Royle Dickson, wealthy widow of fifty years, who has become the bride of Fred Dickson, twenty-four-year-old Cape Cod laborer.

"My ambition," she says, 'is to spend my time quietly here on Cape Cod near to Nature's heart, with work and play and love—and Mr. Dickson.

"When a heart truly loves, twenty years, more or less, amounts to naught. As love laughs at locksmiths, so does love laugh at years.

"The reason a mature woman, especially a widow, can capture the heart of a young man is because she is unselfish. For the young woman always talks and thinks of herself. The mature woman forgets herself for her true love."

Diversified Features of Government Discussed and Disposed of—Outside Territory Desires Annexation—Needs of Public Library Are Ably Presented

Following are official minutes of the city council which assembled Thursday night at 8 p. m., with Mayor Spencer Robinson in the chair and Councilmen Davis, Kimlin, Lapham and Stephenson present.

Action taken by the Council on the annexation of the Sierra avenue district has been recorded elsewhere in this paper, also relative to the improvement of the newly opened portion of Orange street, the applications of G. W. Bercaw for appointment as City Manager and of James F. McBryde for appointment as city attorney, acceptance of dinner invitation of Chamber of Commerce directorate, garbage disposal and charge therefor, and discussion of auto camp grounds and their regulation.

The balance of matters considered by the council were recorded as follows:

Federation of Parent-Teachers.

Communication was read from Glendale Federation of Parent-Teachers Associations by Mrs. John Robert White Jr. president, accompanied by a copy of the resolution adopted by the Federation calling attention to the needs of the Glendale public library, particularly to the advisability of adding a number of books to those already on its shelves and expressing the opinion that the financial support given to the library by the city should be the full limit allowed by law for that purpose. Ordered to be filed and referred to the budget committee.

Applications to Sell Milk.

Applications for permit to sell milk were presented from John Chudley and from Mrs. Lettia E. Connor which were granted.

Applications to do Street Work by Private Contract.

Applications to do street work by private contract were received from R. J. East and from Martha Y. Salyer; both were granted.

Improvement of Dayton Court.

The city engineer presented a map showing the assessment district for the improvement of Dayton court and was approved.

Ordinances Presented

Councilman Stephenson presented an ordinance affecting the time and place of holding meetings of the city council which was read and laid over. It provided for weekly meetings Thursday evenings at 8 p. m. Councilman Davis presented an ordinance providing for annexation to the city of Glendale certain territory known as Pacific avenue district which was read and laid over.

Alley West of High School.

Councilman Stephenson inquired as to the status of proceeding for opening alley east of Brand boulevard and west of the High School property and was informed by the city attorney that further action has been deferred awaiting action by the legislature to see whether under the law the high school property could be required to pay its proportion of the costs of the opening and widening.

Proud of Our Circulation

In just a few short months the Glendale Press has attained the largest sworn circulation, 2050 paid subscribers, ever held by any newspaper in this city, and is advancing rapidly every day.

Even summer vacationists do not affect its rapid strides. Probably we would not lay so much stress on our circulation were it not for the fact that a regular campaign of lies is in progress.

Upon request, the following gentlemen have examined our books and report as follows:

"We, the undersigned, have examined the subscription records of the Glendale Daily Press, and find that the total number of paid subscribers is in excess of 2050 daily and 2400 on Friday, as stated in affidavit of circulation manager.

JESSE JOSEPHS REPORT FIRE LOSS

Mrs. Jesse Joseph reports some misunderstanding on the part of the public, relative to the losses sustained by herself and Mr. Joseph in the burning of their garage. No furniture was destroyed, she says, but a valued collection of 250 negatives is gone, also the mounted head of a deer which Mrs. Joseph shot herself, likewise some trunks and pictures. The garage was so damaged that it will have to be rebuilt but the loss is covered by insurance.

She is satisfied that the fire was set by her baby grandson, three years old, who had a collection of fireworks and had prattled about burning his "firework house."

COUNCIL MEMBERS ACCEPT INVITATION

City council members accepted without a dissenting vote the invitation of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to attend a complimentary dinner next Tuesday evening at which matters affecting the welfare of the city and the common interests of the two bodies will be discussed. This would be a good time to bring up the question of the city park which, in the opinion of Councilman Kimlin, Glendale so greatly needs and which he thinks should be promoted by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Robinson said he supposed oratory would be in order on that occasion and intimated that he would entertain a motion instructing Councilman Stephenson to prepare a speech for the mayor. Stephenson protested that the maiden speech of the mayor had greatly impressed him and he declined in advance to make proxy speeches.

Betty Compson Working

Betty Compson has begun work on her second Paramount picture, "The Woman in the Case." Penrhyn Stanlaws is directing. Will Carleton is leading man and Cleo Ridgley has a prominent role.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. OVERTON

Funeral services of Mrs. Margaret Overton, who died on Wednesday morning at her home, 415 Fernando court, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Central Christian church. The Alpha Omega class of the Christian Bible school, of which Margaret and Mabel, daughters of the deceased, are members, will attend the services in a body.

Two sons of Mrs. Overton will be present for the funeral, Arthur and his wife, of Bakersfield, having arrived here Wednesday. The other two sons, who are at present in the east, telegraphed that it would be impossible for them to make the trip to Glendale.

FUTURISTIC DOORSTEPS BARRED

BOSTON, July 8.—Futurist art may have a place, but it is not on the front steps. So contended a woman house owner here when she discovered that a tenant had painted the steps of one of her buildings alternately pink and red.

HEARTY APPRECIATION

Editor Glendale Daily Press:

Please accept the most hearty thanks of the Glendale Christian Endeavor convention committee for the cooperation and thorough way in which you handled the pre-convention publicity and reporting of the sessions of the convention.

It was always a pleasure to call at your office and hear the usual query: "What can the Press do to assist the C. E. convention?"

We wish to especially mention the courtesies extended to us by Mrs. Calkins, Capt. Watson, Miss Warner and Miss Gibbs.

With best wishes to the Press and its staff, we remain,

Yours very truly,
HOWARD L. BROWN,
Chairman.

Buddy's Place, of 212½ S. Brand Blvd. is known far and wide for their wonderful tamales, and some claim that it is the delicious sauce, the formula for which is Buddy's own secret, makes the dish. Buddy has contributed the recipe for the housewives of Glendale:

* * *

To make a half gallon of Tamale sauce:

Take one quart of tomatoes, cut two large onions in quarters, one-half teaspoonful of parched Oragona seed, one half spoonful of ground comeno seed two tablespoons of Eagle Chilli powders. Boil the whole until thoroughly done and serve while hot.

Things taste just ever so much better when they're served on "hones: to goodness "plates—even though they are paper ones! The Glendale Pharmacy have laid in a supply of picnic plates, napkins and wax papers to make the feast even more enjoyable! When you stop at the Glendale Pharmacy, 638 E. Broadway, for your picnic supplies, look over the attractive Elk Decorations which they are displaying.

As Chummy is leaving New York I was very much surprised to find when I dropped in at the Barnes-Schuck Music Co., of 211 N. Brand Blvd. this morning, that there was another note from her, awaiting me!

Martha Malicia, My dear;

It's all too wonderful to be true. I've listened to Leopold Godowsky, Sergei Rachmaninoff, George Copeland, Arthur Rubinstein, Yolando Mero, Joseph Hoffman, Victor Herbert, Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mischa Levitzky, I've heard Leo Ornstein play Arabesque, by Schumann, Dvórak's Humoreske, Mendelssohn's Chaminade, this only a partial list of the guests that have entertained Nanny Mums and me. Tonight I danced in the conservatory to The Love Bird, that superb new fox-trot (and Gordon is here). Andre Kmita played his accompaniment while he sang to me a medley of Irish Songs, and well,—you know he's just my own Gordon Lee!

But best of all—I overheard Gordon ordering an Ampico in the Knabe baby grand—to be delivered from Barnes-Schuck Music Co., to our new home in your beautiful Glendale—on the first of August! And—you and elected to committee of one to help me select my rolls from the excellent stock at Barnes-Schuck.

Your own
Chummy.

The pre-war prices ranged from $1.75 to $2.50—and now Neale and Gregg are selling the six inch size at 85c; the six and a half inch size at $1.00 and the seven inch shear at $1.15; These are the best scissors, made of the highest grade steel and fully guaranteed! They come in all nickel or with Japan handles. And remember—these exceptional prices are for Saturday only; Neale and Gregg have also received a large shipment of the Homer Laughlin dishes—which, I presume you know, are conceded to be the best American made crockery! There are a great many fine shapes—all with 18 karat gold band decorations! You can buy either a full dinner set or select individual pieces from the open stock.

"Good coffee will save a poor meal and poor coffee will spoil a good meal," so says Mr. Booth, the Coffee King of 318 E. Broadway. And, surely, if any one, Mr. Booth should know, for a graduate of Oxford University and a talented singer, he entered the field of coffee and teas very young. In England, when a young man, Mr. Booth was a tea and coffee "taster," and thus learned to tell the best at a glance (or a taste!). The secret probably of his success in Glendale, is the fact that he blends all of his own coffee! and among his regular customers are to be found many prominent physicians! Just try a pound of Booth's Special Blend Coffee and you'll never be satisfied with any other!

A cozy litle four-room Colonial Bungalow, brand new! Yes, with the newest built-in features, the best of hardwood floors, ivory finished woodwork, a lovely porch across the front and a dandy garage and cement driveway—all for only $4200! Vandenhoff the agent, of 205 N. Brand Blvd. will make most unusual terms—about $800 down and the balance less than the average rental—only $40.00 per month!

Peanut butter fudge is a very smooth concoction for an after supper nibble. Put two cups of sugar and two-thirds cup of milk in a saucepan. Bring to boiling point and let boil until a soft ball may be formed when mixture is tested in cold water. Remove from range, add four tablespoons of peanut butter and one teaspoon of vanilla and beat until creamy. Turn into buttered pan, cool and mark in squares, placing a half of peanut on each square.

To make fruit juices—wash fruit—currants, raspberries, strawberries or blackberries—mash and put in preserving kettle on range and let them heat to boiling point. Cook about twenty minutes, then strain through cheesecloth, pressing out every drop of juice possible. For each quart of juice allow one-half cup of granulated sugar which has been heated in the oven: boil five minutes and turn into sterilized jars or bottles.

Don't hesitate a minute to send the finest of fabrics to the Brand Cleaners of 217 S. Brand Blvd. for they do such excellent cleaning, and give everything just the best of care.

* * *

Put white and light colored silks and pongees through strong, tepid white soapsuds, then through second weaker suds, rinse, press out the water with the hands, shake out all wrinkles, spread on a clean sheet, and roll tight. Cover with a cheesecloth and iron while still damp with a not too hot iron. No portion of silk should be allowed to dry before ironing.

A washing machine is an essential in every modern home! At their present retail prices, there is no one who can afford to be without one! The A. B. C. Washer which Washer Wilson carries is particularly desirable—for it runs so very quietly and is so smooth in operation and thus eliminating the danger of trouble with the mechanism. There are two ways for washing and the A. B. C. Super-Electric combines both methods, alternately! The motor, too, is 50% higher powered than usual—and no matter how big the wash—it is never strained. There are two styles in the pleasing cabinets by which the A-B-C is known—one, fully enclosed and the other, which is called the Semi-Cabinet is only enclosed half way down. The mechanism, swinging wringer and every other A-B-C feature is the same—the only difference occurring in the price—which is about $30 less in the Semi Cabinet! Won't you drop into Washer Wilson's at S. Brand Blvd. and let him demonstrate the A-B-C Super Electric for you?

Take that hopeless old mirror to the Photo Shop at 219 E. Broadway, where you can have the frame made over and beautifully decorated. Why, from the plainest of frames they'll make a handsome Polychrome that you'd never dream wasn't an imported French mirror, when finished! And the cost is very reasonable,—much less than a new mirror of the same quality! Another interesting feature at the Photo Shop—they make most attractive colored pictures from kodak enlargements, by tinting them with oil colors. Let them do one of your choice scenes and see how beautifully they'll bring out the different shadings!

One Delicatessen	150

HONOR THE FLAG

The Glendale Daily Press struck a responsive chord in its offer of a beautiful bunting flag with each yearly subscription paid in advance. All we could procure at that time were speedily taken and many applied for the flags after the supply had been exhausted. To satisfy these demands we have ordered a new supply, and these will be given on the same terms as were the first. The Daily Press is not doing this as a money-making proposition, for the flags are quite costly and the paper is worth every cent asked for it, but we desire to do our bit toward stimulating patriotism and reverence for the flag. We hope to eventually see "Old Glory" displayed in every Glendale home, and we want to do our part toward bringing this about.

Fill out the coupon below and bring it or mail it to the office, accompanied with $5 for a year's advance subscription, and a flag will be laid away for you. If in arrears, pay to date and a year in advance to get the flag.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF CITY MANAGER IN REGARD TO POSITIONS

Recommendations of City Manager Watson relative to appointments to be made by the city council under charter provisions, were embodied in the following communication:

[redacted] July 7, 1921.

"Honorable Council, City of Glendale.

"Gentlemen: Pursuant to verbal request of Tuesday evening, the 5th inst., I submit the following in regard to the appointment of city officials and employes, as provided for by charter:

"Article 6 outlines the powers and duties of the council sets forth in section 5 that the council has power to "appoint a city assessor, which office may be combined with that of city clerk, a city tax collector, a police judge, a city attorney, a city manager and five library trustees."

"Article 9, which outlines the duties of the city manager, provides in section 2 that one of the powers of the city manager shall be "to appoint, except as otherwise provided in this charter, all officers, heads of departments or divisions, and all deputies, assistants and employes in the several departments and offices, and to remove same. Such appointment and removal shall be subject to the approval of the council and shall not be effective without such approval."

Article 23, containing miscellaneous provisions, sets forth in section 19 that "all officers, assistants and employes in office, when this charter takes effect, shall continue to hold and exercise their respective offices or employment, under the terms of this charter, until the election or appointment and qualification of their successors."

"Section 18 of miscellaneous provisions provides that "All ordinances and resolutions in force at the time this charter takes effect, and not inconsistent therewith, shall continue in full force until amended or repealed."

"Ordinance No. 47, adopted by the board of trustees on May 31, 1921, provides for the salaries of city officials and employes and sets forth the classification and number of employes to be employed in the several divisions. Employment cards have been made out for all regular city officers and employes provided for in this ordinance. We assume that under the provisions of section 19 of article 23, quoted above, these employes will continue to serve in their present capacities at the salaries fixed in such ordinance until the appointment and qualification of their successors. The charter requires very few changes in the present order. The office of controller as provided for in the charter, has not been provided for by ordinance No. 447. Under the provisions of article 23, section 19, quoted above, we take it that it will be the duty of the city manager to recommend to your council the appointment of a controller. This should be done within the next two or three weeks so that the controller may be in a position to take charge of the accounts of the city by the time the budget and appropriation resolution provided for in section 7 of article 11 is adopted by your council.

"Respectfully submitted,
"T. W. WATSON,
"City Manager."

HAD NOTHING ON LITTLE JOE.

Little Joe was at his grandmother's house for dinner. Although fried chicken and many other mighty good things were on the table, Joe did not care to eat much. Then grandmother began to coax him. One thing after another she brought to his notice. Finally she said: "Here's my home-made sugar cookies. Arn't you going to try some them, dear?" Little Joe attempted a smile. "That's what is the matter," he explained. "I tried too many of them before dinner, grandma."

City Manager Explains Garbage Collection Fee

month. These payments will be provided for in this year's budget.

"It was estimated that it would cost $500 per month to operate this truck which would gather the garbage and a portion of the tin cans and waste matter. It was also estimated that a portion of the time an additional truck would be required to gather the remainder of the waste matter. The cost of this was estimated at $100. At that time is was costing approximately $200 per month additional to gather papers and rubbish in the business district, making a total monthly cost of $1,666.25, for gathering and disposing of garbage, waste matter, waste paper and rubbish, including payments on the truck, as set forth above. Against this would be credited approximately $100 per month, receipts from the sale of garbage. In this would be included $200 as the estimated cost of gathering the tin cans and waste matter, $200 per month for gathering the rubbish in the business district, and $266.25 as payment on the truck, leaving the net cost of gathering the garbage $300 per month, which was $200 less than the best bid received for gathering it under contract and $100 per month more than it was costing under previous contract.

"This additional expense for gathering garbage, waste matter and rubbish and the purchase of equipment, has to be undertaken by the city at a time when funds from taxation to meet such an expense would not be available by reason of the fact that no large amount of taxes for the current fiscal year is received until about four months after July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year. This applies as well to all other service rendered by the city, the expense of which is to be paid for from general tax.

"During the past several years an effort has been made to accumulate a cash balance in the treasury to carry the city through this period. There has been accumulated about $20,000 in this way, which has helped out greatly during this period.

Article 11 of the charter provides in section 15, for a general reserve fund, the purpose of which is keeping the payment of the running expenses of the city on a cash basis. This fund is to be maintained in an amount sufficient to meet all legal demands against the treasury, of the first four months of the fiscal year. It was therefore thought best that a small charge be made for gathering the garbage during the first six months of the fiscal year which would amount to $2 for the average householder during that period, or 33 1-3 cents per month.

"It was also thought best to charge for the gathering of the rubbish in the business district. This, however, was to be a temporary arrangement as the gathering of papers and waste matter in the business section is a direct service to the business establishments that is usually taken care of by direct charge whether the city renders the service or private parties are engaged therefor. The charge for gathering garbage is temporary and only for the first six months of the present fiscal year.

In this connection it might be said that the cities of Santa Barbara, Redlands, Riverside and Long Beach all make a regular charge for this service. The only figure we have as to the regular charge is from Redlands, the charge there being 50 cents per month, and this is the amount formerly charged by the city of Glendale for this service."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Immediate abandonment of old-fashioned diplomacy coupled with a business-like demand that Japan and Great Britain "put their cards on the table in the matter of naval armaments," is the solution of a "crisis" now faced by America "as important as any during the world war," according to John Hays Hammond, noted mining engineer and statesman, in an interview today.

Failure of U. S. Navy to Seize U-117 is Revealed

German Submarine That Sent Many American Vessels to Bottom and Harassed Shipping Along Atlantic Coast Escaped From United States Vessel

By DAVID M. CHURCH,
(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Hidden away in the archives of the great grey Navy Building here are hundreds of romances and adventures of the seas which may never come to light.

In steel bound files are the records of successes and of failures during the World War which swelled the heart of seafaring men with pride and caused them to tear their hair in anguish.

Perhaps the most romantic records concern the activities of the United States Navy against the German U-boats, records which have never been opened to the public.

With the recent sinking of the U-117 off Cape Charles by aerial bombers there has come to light the story of a great disappointment to the American Navy.

The U-117 left Kiel on June 12, 1918, under command of a German, who is believed to have served as a gunner's mate in the United States Navy at one time. Apparently well versed on conditions in American waters, this U-boat captain turned her toward the shores of the United States. From a date late in June until early in September the U-117 was a menace to American and foreign shipping off the coasts of the North Atlantic. Mines were sown by the U-117 from Maine to Hatteras, and five vessels and eight schooners fell prey to the underseas destroyer.

The Navy Department adopted drastic measures. Thirty-five patrol boats were sent to capture the U-boat, but without success; she continued her raids, particularly upon schooners.

At this time the British Navy was having some success with U-boats, or mystery ships, innocent-looking vessels, which were quickly turned into armed fighting craft when attacked by the U-boats. American naval officers desired to outfit some of these mystery ships, but it is understood that Wodrow Wilson intervened, holding that such vessels were a violation of international law. This was the first bitter disappointment to those charged with making a defense against the submarines.

The U-117 was continually reported to the Navy Department as still active in American waters, sinking schooners and sowing mines. The Navy was nonplussed.

Quiet Search of the Seas.

Quietly and without ostentation five commanders were relieved of their naval duty. They came into possession of five sailing schooners and went to sea. The naval officers were out of the Navy and apparent owners of sailing vessels, but they retained the commercial "skippers" of their schooners.

It was a strange coincidence that when these five small schooners put to sea an American submarine deemed it wise to follow in the wake of each schooner. In fact, the schooners and the submarines became quite chummy, so much so that a telephone line was strung from the schooner to each submarine, which remained below the surface all day long. It is very probable that if the U-boat had ben sighted there might have been some telephoning to the submarine astern.

At night time the submarine commanders brought their craft to the surface, and their good friends on board the schoners loaded them down with gifts of food supplies and fuel.

One pair of these strange marine "pals" was dragging along in a calm off the Virginia Capes in midsummer, 1918. The submarine had been on the surface till nearly daybreak, and the former naval officer in the schooner had been up all night tending to the wants of his friends in the submarine. So at daybreak he turned in for a short sleep, and the submarine opened her submerging valves and went below.

Find U-Boat on Surface.

Shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning the lookout on the schooner reported a bark apparently at anchor off the stern. Later it was reported that a small vessel was alongside the bark. The lookout continued to make reports on the activities of the two vessels. The American submarine stayed below, the naval commander on the schooner exulted in well-earned sleep, and the Scandinavian skipper of the schooner went about his usual duties.

Just before noon the submarine commander telephoned to the schooner asking if all was clear for him to bring his vessel to the surface to give the crew a bit of fresh air. The skipper of the schooner telephoned back for the submarine to come up.

The submarine was hardly on the surface before there was a distant boom; the bark astern was seen to turn her tail upward and sink, and toward the schooner there came scurrying through the ocean what was unmistakably a submarine. She had not sighted the American submarine.

The American submarine commander was back to his vessel in a twinkling. Hatches were suddenly closed, orders were given to prepare for action, and the boat made a quick dive below the surface, but not quick enough; for almost simultaneously the approaching U-boat sighted the submarine and made another quick dive. Constant search for many hours failed to turn up the missing U-boat.

Navy Department Wroth.

Disappointment on that day was sufficient, but it was even greater when some time later it was learned that the U-boat had been alongside the bark for more than four hours, with her hatches wide open, loading copper bars from the bark before sending her to the bottom with a bomb. While this perfect target was open the American submarine had loafed below the surface; the American naval commander on the schooner had slept peacefully, and the skipper of the schooner had gone blissfully on with his desk duties.

There was a warm time in the Navy Department. The skipper of the schooner was sharply called to account for his failure to report the bark and the vessel alongside. He maintained that he had believed it to be a small tug towing the bark.

After the armistice, when the Navy Department secured the U-117 together with its log, it was learned that the U-boat commander recorded this as his most narrow escape in American waters.

It is small wonder that there was grim satisfaction on the faces of watching naval officers a few weeks ago, when the U-117 turned her tail to the clouds and took her last dive, an ignominious end, sunk by aerial bombers while anchored as a helpless target.

And so another chapter of the disappointments of the sea was closed.

THEATERS

Palace Grand

Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," which has proven one of the outstanding pictures of the year, will be shown at the Palace Grand Theatre for the last time tonight. This is a delightful picture that pleases young and old alike and was made by John S. Robertson, director of John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." A cast including Gareth Hughes as Tommy; May McAvoy as Grizel; Mabel Taliaferro as "The Painted Lady" and George Fawcett as Dr. McQueen, has done marvels with this classic of English literature.

There is also a great two reel comedy "Zero Love" to round out this program of mirth and fun.

Glendale Theatre

Edith Hallor Starred in New Emotional Drama.

Edith Hallor, beautiful stage star who recently scored on the screen in "Children of Destiny," is to be presented in a second emotional drama, "Just Outside the Door," a Select Picture at the Glendale Theatre today.

"Just Outside the Door" is a story of a sister's supreme sacrifice for her weak brother, a story of hate, pride and love that moves swiftly along to a stirring climax. Edith Hallor as Madge Picton, welfare worker, has just the sort of a role that her temperament and beauty demand.

Thrown by her work with the scion of an aristocratic family, she falls in love with him. His family tries to discourage the match, and to this end efforts are made to compromise Madge. The girl goes to the millionaire mill owner in the effort to clear her brother from forgery, and the capitalist there makes advances that drive her in terror fom him. How Madge flees to the house of her fiance for shelter and how her brother, caught in the act of robbery, is saved, make a wonderfully interesting drama.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready to use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

DR. H. V. BROWN AND FAMILY ENJOYED THEIR OUTING

Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Brown and family have returned from a two weeks' auto trip which took them to San Francisco by way of Three Rivers. When asked about the location of "Three Rivers," the doctor explained that it is at the foot of the big Sequoia National park and one of his friends has a "dream" ranch there. It was substantial enough for the Brown family for a day and a night of entertainment, so the supposition is that the ranch is an ideally scenic proposition. From this ranch they drove to San Francisco where the doctor attended a meeting of the board of medical examiners, of which he is a member, and a week was spent in sight-seeing.

On the return journey they took in the Big Basin in Santa Cruz county, otherwise the California Redwoods state park, and spent three days in a summer camp with Dr. Phillips, called Brookville. The entire fortnight's tour covered 1200 miles and was made without difficulties of any sort in a brand new car.

MISS CAROL DUNCAN IS NOT IN MEXICO

It was not Miss Carol Duncan, local intermediate school teacher, who was arrested along with a party of Los Angeles county teachers in Mazatlan by Mexican officials, charged with wearing immodest bathing suits, as an error in spelling occuring in a local paper would suggest.

The name of the teacher with which Miss Duncan's name was confused is Miss Carol Dunlap. Impressions in regard to proper bathing suits in Mexico differ from those prevalent in this country. The teachers who ran counter to the "puritanical tastes" of Mexican officials were on their way to Mexico City with a view to perfecting their knowledge of Spanish during the summer months.

A Peach of a Picture

Alice Terry is preparing for the filming by Metro of "Turn to the Right," an adaptation of the stage success of the same title. Terry will enact the leading role and will pass the greater part of her filming time working "amid the aroma of peach blossoms:"

J. Pierpont Morgan said at a dinner in New York: "I am very glad that the government has seen fit to accept my London town house for its American embassy. Our ambassadors in the past were put to great inconvenience looking for suitable houses—for the embassy, you know, must be a very special kind of a house, and also a very expensive one. Joseph H. Choate used to tell a story to the effect that, when he first went to London as American ambassador, he spent days and weeks looking for a house. One afternoon on this house hunt he was overcome with fatigue in the West End and sank down on a bench in Kensington garden and fell asleep. He slept till closing time. Then a London bobby shook him by the shoulder roughly. 'Here, my man,' said the bobby, 'what are you doing here? Why don't you go home?' "Home?' said Mr Choate. 'Officer, I have no home. I am the American ambassador.'"

Orville Wright was talking at a Dayton dinner about the new Caproni biplane which carries 100 passengers. "What will the scientists say now?" he laughed. "When my brother and I were trying to fly the scientists proved time after time that flight was impossible to man. Afterwards, when flying was actually accomplished, they proved that airplanes would never be more than dangerous toys; big, stable ones couldn't be made; they'd be too heavy to rise. Those scientists were like the old lady who was taken to see the first trolley car to start in her village. She looked at the car and sniffed: 'It'll never go.' But the car did go. It went beautifully. Then the old lady, staring after it, shrieked: 'It'll never stop.'"

ORDINANCE WILL BE DRAFTED FOR THE REGULATION OF AUTO PARKS

The absence of any present authority to grant or refuse permits for the establishment of auto parks or to regulate them after established, was called to the attention of the city council last evening by Councilman Stephenson, who explained that he did not wish to be understood as opposing auto parks if suitably located and regulated. He realized their value and convenience to the traveling public, but under present conditions the owner of high class property might have an auto park in which a colony of tents or tent houses would spring up, established right beside him to the serious detriment of the value of his holdings, and he thought an ordinance should be drafted to cover this matter. On the proposition being put in the form of a motion by Stephenson, Councilman Lapham seconded it and the vote was unanimous in its favor, the city attorney being instructed to prepare such an ordinance.

MAKE AUTO TRIP FROM THE NORTH

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Archer of Pullman, Wash., arrived in Glendale Thursday evening, for an extended visit with the doctor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Archer of 533 East Elk avenue, and with other relatives living here. They made the trip by automobile in less than eight days and found excellent roads nearly all the way. Dr. and Mrs. Archer are parents of Clifford L. Archer, who spent last winter in Glendale and who recently passed away at a sanitarium in Portland, Ore.

GLENDALE GATEWAY CLUB CONSIDERS WIDENING OF LOS FELIZ

About fifteen or twenty interested property owners and members of the Glendale Gateway association, assembled at the municipal building at the corner of Brand and Los Feliz Thursday, to discuss the widening of Los Feliz road. The talk was all quite informal, the chief speakers being Mrs. Ella Light, Dr. William C. Mabry and C. L. Peckham. All were agreed that for safety and other reasons, the street should be widened and the general trend of sentiment was in favor of increasing the parkway, as proposed by Councilman Stephenson. Such a proposition as that could be carried out from San Fernando road to Glendale avenue without serious curtailment of the properties involved. No action was taken in the way of a vote. That was left for a meeting to be held in the same place next Thursday night, when all citizens in that part of Glendale will be asked to come and express themselves.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally if You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they slugishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

DISCOVER TRIBE ON SOUTH SEA ISLAND

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 8—Living in the same manner as the men of the Stone Age, a tribe exists on a little island in the South Pacific.
Such is the story told by Dr. Northcote Deck, a missionary, who lives at Aola and who has visited the island where these prehistoric people have their being.
"There are only about five hundred inhabitants on the island," said Dr. Deck, in a recent communication to the Royal Geographical society, "and because of their virtual isolation and through lack of anchorage for a ship, even their dialect has never been studied.
"Iron is the thing they most covet, and for it they will exchange every available object. The caves of the island are swarming with flying foxes, whose teeth seem to form the only currency on the island.
"The islanders are great fighters and wrestlers. They use thrusting spears of hard black wood, 12 feet long and fully six pounds in weight, with 15 to 20 barbs on each side. The making of these spears seems to be a lost art.
"Throwing spears are also used, with points made of human leg and arm bones. Some of them are tipped with a bone splinter, which is designed to break off in a wound and infect it.
"They seem to feel keenly the monotony of their isolation and showed a settled melancholy in both their faces and the cadence of their voices. Their only sort of music, to which they dance, consists in the tuneless beating of a log."

City Tax Budget Being Compiled

The city budget, which is at present being compiled by City Manager Watson, and which will be offered to the city council for approval, it is estimated, will approximate $162,000 as the expendable amount necessary to maintain the various city departments and government during the current fiscal year, according to Mr. Wilson, who stated this morning that he is making every effort to have the budget completed at an early date.
After the budget has been approved by the city council it will be submitted to public inspection prior to its acceptance, when it will be referred to the county board of supervisors in order that the tax rate for the county may be determined by September 1.
Differing from the budgets compiled in past years, which operated only as estimates of the cost of city maintenance, the present budget, according to Mr. Watson, will factor as "executive" in that following a pre-audit scheme it will definitely designate appropriations for every municipal expense. No special action, consequently, will be required by the city council to approve expenditures, since the initial acceptance of the entire budget combines an approval of each fractional expenditure.
Under the terms of the new city charter, which requires that a pre-audit budget be prepared by the city manager for each fiscal year, provision is made whereby changes may be effected, to alter appropriations designated in the budget, at the discretion of the city council.
Indicative of the increase of city expenditures during the past several years, are figures on record at the city hall which show that during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, Glendale spent $84,326. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1921, expenditures increased to $135,335, while for the current fiscal year expenses of $162,000 are being provided for. The preparation of a budget, declares Mr. Watson, is the biggest job of his office.

It is not always the big things in life that attract the most attention.
No one succeeds on account of mere luck.

Greenwich Village a Haunt of Iniquity

By S. D. WEYER
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 8.—Greenwich Village, New York's "Little Bohemia," was up in arms—figuratively speaking, recently, for the wrath of the reformers had descended upon it, and the New Freedom is threatened in its vitals, to-wit, the studios and tea rooms.

"Studios? Tea rooms? Nothing of the sort—rat holes, hell haunts of iniquity, that's what they are!" comes the furious cry of the Greenwich Village association. And thus crying, that body filed vigorous protests with the license department against granting dance permits to twenty-two applicants from the village.

To the department's office they marched, did the reformers, two score strong, to "expose" the village's night life. But right behind them came valiant villagers defending their "freedom," and among them were landlords and landladies whose places of "harmless" and "inspirative" amusement are threatened.

Shrine of Cosmic Urge Desecrated

Wondrous and weird were the tales told by attorneys for, and members of, the reforming society. They pictured the village—that part of it which worships at the shrine of the Cosmic Urge, unconventionality, and all that sort of thing, you know—as a plague spot of the metropolis and a menace to the morals of the city and nation.

"Why, these people don't really belong," shouted Michael J. Horan, legal spokesman for the association. "They are down there for profit. Right in my own block there are five rat holes in the basements, disguised as dance halls. The sort of revelry that goes on there is unspeakably disgusting. And when they get through revelling they hold shameless parades—these wild maudlins; yes, that's what they are, wild maudlins."

The emphatic repetition of the epithet was prompted by grunts of protest from among the defenders of village "art."

"Right you are, Mr. Horan," broke in Mrs. R. Levy, who owns a 24-family apartment house in Washington place. She was there to protest against a license being granted to James Schuman, who runs the "Moulin Rouge."

Jazz Until Moonset

"Why, my tenants can't sleep at all because of the noise these horrid people make," she continued.

"Haven't I been insulted while trying to enter my own home?"

"Yes, and I have been accosted in my own vestibule," interpolated Mr. Horan, nodding vigorously.

"And, say," resumed Mrs. Levy, "maybe the people of New York don't really know what a place of iniquity these persons are making of our fair village. Why, it's every other night, almost, that we have to use seltzer syphons to drive the marauders off the sidewalk. 'Night,' did I say? Why, it's early in the mornings—2, 3, 4 o'clock, after they've carried on all night in these basement places they sing and dance jazz right in the street."

"Yes, indeed," corroborated Mr. Horan. "This element that dances by candlelight, lest the rays of the dear old pale moon dazzle them—they've got to be driven out."

"Only the other night," put in Mrs. Levy again, "I saw a young man carrying a slip of a girl in Sappho fashion into one of the basement tea places—'tea places' is what they call them. But that isn't what they are!"

"We demand an investigation of all these so-called studios and tea rooms,' came the voice of the venerable John R. Voorhis, commissioner of elections, one of the oldest residents of the village.

Mrs. Levy contributed a few stories of how she had rescued innocent girls from basements and hallways.

Window-Sill Spooning

Someone among the protestants mentioned the case of the Jolly Friars.

"I wish to say right here and now, ladies and gentlemen, that I conduct a most respectable place," announced Mrs. Josephine Emery, who presides over that establishment. "Why, I have priests and ministers come to my place to dine—and they love me just as much as you do."

Her gaze that moment was fixed intently upon Mr. Horan.

"No, Mrs. Emery," protested the legal guide of the reformers, "don't look at me. I was, unfortunately, within the range of your vision that time."

"I operate a most respectable place, ladies and gentlemen," reiterated the high priestess of the Jolly Friars, with dignity.

"Is that so-o-o-o?" rejoined Mrs. Levy, with just a trace more of sarcasm in her voice than she had evidently intended, for she promptly added:

"Well, I know nothing about your place, but I will say that some of these places have pillows in the windows, on which men and women recline together, smoking cigarettes. I think it's simply awful! And when their smokes are gone another couple takes their place, arms around each other, right on the window sill!"

Then came the case of the Blue Bird. Its proprietor found a powerful patron in the person of a police captain, who gave it his emphatic "O. K., O. K."

"I furnish only light entertainment for my patrons," piped a youthful artist with waving mane and bow tie. His employer agreed that the victrola was the loudest thing in the place.

Against William Cohen, who runs a palace of art almost next door to an undertaking shop, Horan complained that "when the mourners come, then in your place is dancing and jazz."

Mr. Cohen silenced Horan with a wave of his hand. Then he stepped forward a pace or two, and proclaimed gravely:

"Mr. Commissioner, I have made arrangements with the undertaker that when he holds wakes my piano is quiet."

Famous Greenwich Village haunts and their habitues are charged by a reforming society with being:

"Vicious, immoral, greedy;

"Unsanitary, mean, sleep-killing;

"Indecent, lascivious, pestiferous."

Moreover, they are declared worse that the old Haymarket, worse than McGurk's "Suicide Hall," worse than the House of Lords and worse than the old "Red Light" district.

"GLENDALE'S OWN" READY FOR FINAL ORDER TO LEAVE

Barring the goodbys and the waving of handkerchiefs, "Glendale's Own" companies of National Guard which will go into training at Yosemite Park for two weeks are all set for the final order of "right by file" to move aboard the Pacific Electric cars that will leave the Glendale station about five o'clock tomorrow afternoon for the Southern Pacific Station to entrain.

No longer will the local organization of guardsmen be referred to as the 5th Separate Company. With the formation of the 160th Infantry, according to orders received this morning by Capt. Thomas D. Watson, Glendale becomes the nucleus of the Third Battalion which brings considerable honor to the community, in the opinion of those acquainted with military affairs, since Headquarters Company and Company M will be located here and these names will in future designate the two sections of the Glendale guard.

It is estimated that fully seventy men will take advantage of the opportunity to combine two weeks experience in training as infantrymen with what promises to be a delightful vacation as well. At the regular weekly drill last night the men were instructed to take fishing tackle, bathing suits, and any other paraphernalia they might wish for their own amusement.

Many "twelfth hour" men, it is said, will probably enlist, for Captain Watson has promised to accept applications up to as late a time as this evening, and the men who intend to make the trip to Yosemite are urging all their friends to go also. In addition to Captain Watson, Lieut. Hayhurst, Glendale High School Coach will attend the National Guard encampment.

With final preparations to make, Saturday promises to be a busy day at company headquarters above the Glendale branch of the L. A. Trust and Savings Bank, on Brand boulevard. Most of the men are new at the military game and they have much to learn in regard to looking after their equipment though according to Lieutenant Hayhurst the company showed up to decided advantage last night during instruction given in pack rolling.

Other companies of National Guard with the Third Battalion that will attend the encampment are Company I, Burbank; Company K, Hollywood and Company L, Hollywood. Trains carrying these organizations in addition to the Glendale companies will leave Los Angeles tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. The detraining point, nearest to the Yosemite Camp, is El Portal.

A piece of bone cut from the leg of an ox, boiled for forty-eight-hours, shaped and drilled with holes was inserted into the gap and secured with pegs. The muscles were stitched around it. A plaster cast was applied to the limb. In three weeks the beef bone was firmly united and the patient left the hospital a month later.

MEDFORD, Ore., June 8.—The referee's decision settled the fight between John Antle, seventy-six, and James Bowling, seventy-two, hale and hearty citizens, but failed to declare a winner, and witnesses are still debating the prowess of their favorite.

The "boys" got into an altercation over a city lot. Words seemed useless, so they "peeled" their coats. "Kid" ducked and no damage was done. About this time George Timothy, seventy-five-year-old chief of police, ended the fight by deciding that both should be arrested. In the police court the battlers were fined $10 each.

Clyde Shipyards Slow Up

(By International News Service)

LONDON, June 8.—Shipbuilding in Great Britain during the month of May suffered a decline.

As an example the Clyde shipbuilding yards, which during May of last year launched 61,501 tons, this year only launched eleven vessels, with an aggregate of 22,625 tons.

The decline in trade and the consequent putting of the workers on short time is given as the main reason for the slump.

Judge and Mrs. H. M. Miller and son Ray, of 202 East Elk avenue, returned Tuesday from a visit of several days at Catalina.

Since freight rates have reached such a high altitude, "f. o. b." has assumed a position of great importance.

RECITAL PROGRAM GREATLY ENJOYED

The recital by pupils of Mrs. Charles A. Parker which took place at her home Wednesday, proved an affair greatly enjoyed by the parents and friends invited to hear the program. The songs by Winifred Parker, daughter of the hostess, who is developing a fine voice to carry on the traditions of the Parker family, were of special interest, also her piano solo. She is a pupil of Miss Champlain.

Mrs. Roach's solos delighted her hearers, as usual, and Mrs. L. E. Richardson's two numbers for which Miss Lucile Allen furnished a violin obligato, were warmly encored, as were the contributions of Mrs. McReynolds. Mrs. John Ray interpreted charmingly "Song Birds of June," and the beauty of Mrs. C. L. Vierick's numbers won appreciative applause. Outstanding numbers were the double trio sung by Mesdames Vierick, Ray, McReynolds, Richardson, Parker and Miss Parker; the single trio by Mrs. Meadows, Mrs. Parker and her daughter, and the duet by Mesdames Roach and Parker. Mrs. John A. Wright was the accompanist. At the close of the program delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Parker and daughter.

GERMAN SINCERITY IS QUESTIONED BY HARDEN

(By International News Service)

PARIS, July 7.—Interviewed by a correspondent of Excelsior on economic and political relations between France and Germany, Maximilian Harden, editor of Zukunft, took yet another opportunity offered him to bitterly attack autocratic Germany and to justify France's claims for reparations.

"France asks for but part of what we made her lose," were Harden's first words.

He then stated that Germany still believes that she was not the author of the war, that she was never beaten and that terrible conditions have been imposed upon her, although she faithfully believed in former President Wilson's "Fourteen Points."

"That which past German Governments have lacked," continued Harden, "is frankness. If today Germany shows willingness to repair, it is simply on account of France's threats and strength. No government heretofore has shown any sincerity in its attemps to repair. Germany signed the Treaty of Versailles, and she must make good her signature. Our people think that France is in the throes of militarism, but I am surprised to see how distant from militarism France really is. As the result of your victory we expected to see the appearance of a new Caesar. Instead of that I notice that you make less show of your victorious generals than we do of our beaten military leaders."

Harden believes Chancellor Wirth is sincere and suggests that much more may be had from him if only the allies and particualrly France, were to encourage him a little more.

"Don't continually threaten him or bully him," is his advice. "When he has fulfilled certain of his engagements pat him on the back and tell him, 'Well done! We are satisfied.'"

Referring to economic relations, Harden considers that where sentiment has failed economic relations might very well succeed. "In my opinion," remarks Harden, "economic relations alone can prevent any new conflagration. Let us bind up our economic interests. France and Germany cannot go on for ever stabbing each other in the back."

Asked what Germany would have done had she won the war, Harden replied:

"She would not have done anything very fine, but that sort of thing must cease. We must become men of the future and not remain copies of the past."

CHINATOWN MAYOR IS OUT OF JOB NOW AS RESULT OF SWINDLE

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 7.—Chinatown's mayor is out of a job. Charles Boston, for six years unofficial burgomaster of the strange polygon bounded by Doyers and Pell streets and Park Row, has been recalled. And all on account of the liberation of China.

When China recently underwent a new birth of freedom the local Chinese decided, in their patriotic fervor, to forget Lichee nuts and chicken chow mein, and to hold a state banquet. With the great seal of Charley Boston's approval on the project the Liberty Restaurant, chop suey joint de luxe, was engaged for the function and five slick young Celestials, homesick for Canton and Tsien Tsin, collected the modest sum of $50 per plate from 200 compatriots eager for a feast of sheep's eyes and bird's nest soup. Whereeupon they decamped to China with the proceeds and the banquet didn't come off.

And when his irate "constituents" demanded an explanation the "mayor" could make no answer but "search me," or its Chinese equivalent.

Indignation waxed high, meetings were held and Charley Boston returned to private life. So low is his estate that he didn't even go on the On Leong Tong's annual excursion to Bear Montain. He couldn't be in closer retirement if he had been mentioned in a divorce case.

Ten years ago such an occurrence would have started a bloody Tong war. Today nothing but loud words comes of it, and the barter of Chinese merchandise goes on unabated while tourists from the hither side of the Alleghanies continue to fatten the purses of the curio dealers.

"They're too busy selling souvenirs and making money to be bothered," declared Acting Detective Sergeant Snydecker, of the Chinatown precinct. "The biggest thrill a Chinaman gets nowadays is when his little girl comes home from school with three As on her card. Once in awhile he takes a flyer at fan-tan, but that's all. Times have changed."

FORESTRY CONGRESS TO CONVENE JULY 20

(By International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., June 8.—Forestry as a public necessity will be discussed by leading lumbermen of the Southern Forestry Congress, which meets in Atlanta July 20-22. In spite of the generally admitted need for State legislation to protect the forests, proposed laws recently have been defeated in Mississippi, Texas and Florida, and it is the purpose of the congress, it is said, to point out the great loss sure to result from lack of cooperation by the legislatures.

The congress will invite expressions of opinion from men and women who look at forestry from various points of view to find a common ground for lumber-saving labor. Colonel W. B. Greely, chief United States Forester, and Henry C. Wallace, a department head in the United States service, are expected to attend the conference. Gifford Pinchot, Forest Commissioner of Pennsylvania and a former United States Forester, also is expected.

Midgets Wedded

(By International News Service)

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 8.—A June wedding of unusual interest took place here when Miss Margaret Lang and John Bourassa were joined in marriage. Both are midgets and are said to be the smallest couple in the State. The bride is three feet nine inches, and her husband but a few inches taller.

If you are afraid of every dog bark you will never reach your destination.

TWO WOMEN ARE ON TRIAL FOR MURDER IN OKLAHOMA

Goldie Gordon and Mrs. Jesse James, Charged With Murder of Judge

TULSA, Okla., July 8.—For the first time since their trial opened, Goldie Gordon, pretty artist model and Mrs. Myrl (Jesse) James, trained nurse, sat in court today with wan faces and were visibly nervous as the taking of testimony was resumed.

Charged with the murder of Judge John Devereaux, they semmed to realize that although based largely on circumstantial evidence, the prosecution was building up a strong web of evidence about them. Indications were that the state's testimony would be completed late today while the defense, it was believed, would be short. Both women, it was stated, will take the stand.

Perhaps the hardest blow dealt the defense was the ruling of Judge Redmon S. Cole, which barred records of the dying statements of the Judge in which he is said to have incoherently and in disconnected syllables substantiated the women's story. In this statement he was said to have affirmed that he fell off a bed, striking his head against a radiator, thus causing the wound which contributed to his death. This statement was said to be the chief reliance of the defense.

The allies forced Germany to sign upon the dotted line, but congress is going to make peace with Germany without even bothering to tell Germany about it beforehand. Why not appoint George Sylvester Viereck as special messenger to Berlin to inform his beloved ones that this country has at last made peace?

Don't oversleep.

WOMEN JURORS

Counsel for Mrs. Kaber, Cleveland, Ohio, woman on trial for complicity in the murder of her husband, is making a strong effort to keep women from serving on the jury. The advent of woman suffrage and the subsequent eligibility of women to serve as jurors has brought reality to a situation which has long been discussed in court circles. It is presumed that Mrs. Kaber's attorneys wish to have an entire male jury because of the age-old tradition that a woman on trial for a serious crime is less likely to be found guilty by men than by women. For some unknown reason it has been held that women stand a better chance of a "not guilty" verdict because "chivalrous" man is loath to punish a member of the "weaker sex." There is also a converse to this proposition. Men before the bar of justice are supposed to welcome women as jurors because it is believed they are less severe and, therefore, are more apt to return a verdict of "not guilty." It will indeed be interesting to see these ancient traditions put to a test. The few instances in which women have served as jurors have failed to show that it makes any particular difference whether the jury is made up of men or women. And the outcome will probably be that in a few years, when it becomes common for women to serve on juries, the traditions of chivalrous men and faint-hearted women will be altogether forgotten.

YOUR MEMORY

You are finding it more and more difficult to remember what you have read?

And it worries you at times that you find it so hard to keep certain facts in your mind where you can get hold of them when you wish.

Now, what can you expect if you have not charged your mind with anything definite and made yourself bring it to mind at the right time without outside aid?

When you read you just skip from one thing to another which interests you, making no effort to remember any bits of useful knowledge.

You cannot expect your memory to serve you if it never has to work.

It is twice as hard to fight to have a memory after letting it off easy all these years, and so unnecessary if you had practcied remembering at least one thing a day, accurately, and proved your efforts were correct.

It is discouraging work to build a memory which has been allowed to rest and lean on props.

A good memory is indispensable in almost any line of work.

Cultivate your memory and make yourself worth much more than you are at present.

There are too many men in the world who are content with wasting their own time.

GRAVE AND GAY

A man took his wife to the doctor He was a simple fellow, and had lived in the country all his life. The doctor placed a thermometer in the wife's mouth. Just before he removed it the man, who had watched spellbound, being unused to such silence on the part of his better half, blurted out: "Doctor, what will you take for that thing you put in her mouth?"

When a lady who was "burning up the road" on the boulevard was overtaken by a traffic officer and motioned to stop, she indignantly asked: "What do you want with me?" "You were running forty miles an hour," answered the officer. "Forty miles an hour? Why, officer, I haven't been out an hour," said the lady. "Go ahead," said the officer, "That is a new one on me."

An emigrant ship was wrecked and many survivors landed on the Falkland Islands. When the news reached home the minister of a church to which some of the emigrants had belonged included in the service a prayer for the victims of the wreck. Being a very cautious man, he worded his prayer in this way: "Be with our brethren stranded in the Falkland Islands, which are situated in the South Atlantic Octan."

He was crusty and rude, but as a celebrity he was entitled to indulgence in these matters. And his retty hostess was not one to shirk any conversational encounter with him. "Tell me, Mr. Highbrow," she inquired, "what is your idea of marriage?" The celebrity frowned. "Madame," he replied, "my idea of marriage is very much the same kind of vague but inarticulate protest as a dog's conception of a tin can that is tied to his tail."

An eager-loking urchin approached a man hurrying toward the railway station. "Carry your bag, sir?" he asked. "No, snapped the man. "I'll carry it all the way for a dime," said the boy. "I tell you I don't want it carried!" snarled the man. "Don't you?" "No! No!" Whereupon the lad broke into a quick trot to keep up with his victim's hasty strides, as he asked, in innocent curiosity: "Then what are you carrying it for?"

A graceful story of Mrs. Harding's popularity is going the rounds of New York. It appears that on a recent visit to New York, Mrs. Harding attended the first performance of a new play. At the end of the play the young playwright was presented to her, and she said: "I like your comedy very much, indeed, and I shall send all my friends to see it." The playwright made a graceful bow and answered: "In that case, madam, we are going to sell exactly 100,000,000 tickets."

A guileless rustic who had applied for a situation on a railroad emerged from the examination room and informed his expectant relatives that he was color blind. "But you can't be," said his father, "you are not more color blind than I am." "I know that, father," was the reply, "but it all comes uv bein' perlite." "What do you mean? Explain yourself," "Well I went into the room an' a man held something up for me to look at. "Come,' said he, 'this is green, isn't it? You are positive it's green—quite pleadin' like, an 'tho' I could see plain enough it wuz red, I couldn't find it in my heart to tell him so. So I agreed with him, and they bundled me out."

Young Willie Wakswerk had not been to school for a whole week, hence the visit from the school officer, who demanded of Willie's mother the cause. "Well, if yer must knew," she answered, "he's past his thirteenth year, an' me an' his father reckons he's had schooling enough, sir." "Schooling enough?" echoed the officer. "Do you know, madam, I did not finish my education until I was twenty-three?" "Yer don't say!" said the mother in astonishment. "But then, yer see,' she added confidentially, "that boy of ours has brains."

The wise man not only lets his wife have the last word, but is tickled nearly to death when she reaches it.

Don't talk about a thing! Just do it. This is the great secret of success.

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE

Notes of Interest to Musical People.

The first Scandinavian Bach festival was held in Christiania the latter part of May when the Caecilia society, a large mixed choir, appeared in a series of selections from Bach. Prof. Karl Strube of Leipsic went to Christiania to direct the music and through weeks of painstaking labor prepared the choir for the successful production of Bach's "Magnificat," "Hercules at the Crossways," secular works and "Passion," which was the final program.

As a climax to Washington's music week in June, 50,000 school children assembled in the form of a wheel, sang for President Harding on the "Ellipse," the beautiful stretch of green back of the White house.

President Harding made his acknowledgment in a few words, concluding, "That's the supreme music of my life."

Yvette Guilbert, who is back in Paris for the first time in several seasons, is entertaining audiences at the Salle Gaveau with the programs which have delighted America during the last few years.

The Teattro Constanzi of Rome is closed for the season, its greatest success having been Mascagni's new opera, "Il Piccolo Marat." During the summer there will be two seasons at popular prices, one at the Adriano and the other at the Stadio.

Mme. Cecile Simmonnet, formerly a singer at the Opera-Comique, Paris, died recently in that city. She was the original Rozenn in Lalo's "Roi d'Ys," which is to be produced at the Metropolitan next season.

A new school of music in Paris will be opened in October under the name of the Louis Diermer Piano school. It will be under the direction of Armand Ferte. The late Louis Diermer was for many years a distinguished professor at the Paris Conservatoire, and some of the best French pianists of today were numbered among his pupils.

A large and representative audience greeted Carolyn Beebe and Ralph Leopold when they gave a two-piano recital recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Lapham, New Canaan, Conn. This was the first of four afternoon recitals which Miss Beebe is giving in New Canaan this month. Lillian Ring, soprano: Charles Vaughn Holly, tenor, and Pierre Henrotte and Livio Mannucci, violinist and cellist, are scheduled to assist Miss Beebe at the three remaining recitals.

Marie Canal, seventeen-year-old Cuban pianist, who is a pupil of Arthur Friedheim at the Sterner school of music, has already won much praise for her concert work. She comes from a musical family.

The Musical Courier says:

"Benno Moiseiwitsch is certainly an international pianist. His first success was won in England, which may be called his second home. Then he came to America, went across the Pacific to win fresh success in Australia, and has just been in London, meeting with a renewal of the favor which was formerly his. At the beginning of this month he skipped over to France, giving two recitals on June 6 and 13, which are reported to have established him at once as a favorite with Paris audiences. He will be heartily welcome when he returns here."

Elizabeth Quaile, pianist, has gone to Lee, Mass., for the warm months, and while away will teach a few students and also do some composing. In the fall Miss Quaile will resume her work in New York, but this year she will be closely associated with Angela Diller. Miss Diller will teach advanced harmony and analysis and ear training, and conduct courses in musical appreciation and history of music, normal classes for teachers, and a limited number of children's classes. Miss Quaile will continue the teaching of advanced piano students, preparation of students for concert work, normal classes for teachers, and the personal supervision of the piano work of children who are studying with assistant teachers.

A concert which aroused much interest was given recently in Brussels in the Salle de l'Union Colonial for the benefit of Russian army and navy officers now residing in Belgium. Satha Votichenko, the Russian musician, whose instrument, the tympanon, was heard for the first time in Brussels on this occasion did much toward making the concert a success. In referring to this recital the Brussels paper, L'Eventhail, said that Votichenko proved that his instrument had great richness of timbre and an inexhaustible variety of tonal color. The Paris Figaro also praised him highly.

Johanna Bayerlee, New York, is the teacher of Devora Nadworney, mezzo contralto, who was awarded the prize at the Tri-City contest of the National Federation of Women's clubs. Johanna Bayerlee is the daughter of an artist. She was the pupil in theory of Humperdinck, friend of George Henschel, Bella Alten and other artists, and among prominent singers who studied with her are Ludwig Mantler, court opera singer of Vienna; Anton Von Rooy, formerly of Bayreuth and of the Metropolitan Opera company of New York; Katherine Kunz, M. A., professor of Hunter college, New York, and others.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

Chinese Atmosphere Exact in "Wing Toy."

In order to get a correct first-hand impression of the life and customs of the Mongolian in America, Miss Shirley Mason, the dainty little star of the William Fox forces, haunted the Los Angeles Chinatown for several months, visiting every nook and corner of it, under the protection of a police officer. These visits were made by Miss Mason in order that the picture, "Wing Toy," which she was then engaged in making might ring true as to detail and color.

Through the assistance of her escort, Miss Mason was enabled to visit the local Joss house at the worship hour, and to get several intimate insights into American Chinese life not revealed to the average slummer. That this conscientious study has served Miss Mason in good stead is borne out in her accurate delineation of Wing Toy, which the little star has made a remarkably appealing and true-to-life characterization.

The scenes are actual scenes taken in Chinatown, and in many instances with the actual denizens of the district appearing as actors. For this deetail it was ncessary to engage and train a number of Chinese, and their natural acting has been commented on as a tribute to the director, Howard M. Mitchell.

An interesting sidelight on the Chinatown of every big city is the fact that there are very few Chinese laundries within its precincts: the local Chinese evidently preferring to devote their energies to more lofty or remunerative callings than the cleansing of soiled linen.

William Collier, affectionately referred to throughout the country as "Willie," and whose record in stage history discloses that he helped make laughing a pleasure, has capitulated to motion pictures. Heretofore only those thatregoers who patronize spoken comedy have had opportunity to see and hear Collier, but "The Servant Question," a Select Picture transfers the infectious Collier humor from stage to screen.

The stage career of Collier has been marked by one succes after another He has been a player since childhood, and made his first appearance in a children's opera company, playing "H. M. S. Pinafore." He was a member of the famous Daly company at Daly's Theatre. Among some of the successes in which he appeared were "The Man from Mexico," "Take My Advice," "On the Quiet," "The Dictator," "Nothing but the Truth," and "Caught in the Rain."

"The Servant Question" is a photoplay which gives Mr. Collier opportunity to solve many problems besides that of domestics in his inimitable, laugh-provoking and rib-tickling manner. He "cleans up" crooked card games, impersonates a butler, runs down some international gem thieves, and wins "the only girl"—and all in his best Collier-esque manner. In the cast is also his son, "Buster" Collier, Armand Cortez, Virginia Lee and Rapley Holmes. Dell Henderson directed the production.

Freudian Eggs

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 8.—A hen that shows a sound, practical interest in aeronautics has been discovered in Yorkshire. She belongs to a Selby tradesman, and this is what he says about her:

Whenever a coastal airship passes overhead the hen lays an egg similar in shape to the envolope of the blimp. It is stated that since the R-33 resumed her practice cruises the hen has been repeatedly observed gazing with a strained expression in the direction of Pulham.

Predicts Date of Death

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 8.—The strange case of the death of Margaret Marie Mors, twelve, on the day which she, three days previously, had predicted, has become known. Stricken with a severe heat attack while watching a baseball game the girl became delirious, during which state she repeatedly named the day on which she would die. It was Wednesday, and on that day Margaret breathed her last. In her mutterings during her delirium the girl said: "Grandpa is calling me." Her grandfather died three years ago.

MODERN GIRL HAS ANOTHER DEFENDER

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, July 8.—The girl of 1921 and her mode of dress have found another defender. He is Ralph Flanders, manager of the New England conservatory of music.

"Have a little patience with the girl of today," he says. "Just because her virtues are different from her grandmother's is no reason she hasn't got 'em. After all, there are styles, even in goodness, you know.

"For every silly modern girl I can show you a hundred self-dependent, self-supporting, eager, intelligent young women."

Flanders declared that hygiene had considerable to do with the revolution in feminine attire.

REGISTER ALIENS WHO RESIDE HERE

Some days ago announcement was made that arrangements would be made for the registration of aliens at the city hall in Glendale and at the postoffice in Tujunga. G. W. Bercaw of this city applied to the board of city trustees before that board dissolved for quarters for this purpose at the city hall, and his request was granted, with the recommendation that he indicate the hours at which he would be on hand to register any aliens who might present themselves.

Mr. Bercaw has made arrangements to be at the City Hall all day Saturday, July 9th to register aliens.

Has Right to Brew Beer

(By International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 8.—"Everyone has the right to brew a little bit of beer in his own home. This is his personal freedom and nothing should take this right away from him," declared Rev. Dr. L. G. Landenberger, of St. Louis, speaking before the annual convention of the New Church members here.

Protestant churches received from their members last year gifts exceeding $200,000,000. And apparently these gifts were prompted by a Christian spirit that did not need to be aroused by the brass-band methods of the drive.

GO TO CATALINA FOR SHORT STAY

Mrs. Oliver K. Mapes and her 12-year-old daughter, Olive, will start Monday for Catalina, where they will spend several weeks. Her son, Gordon, will leave Saturday for Yosemite with the Glendale company, National Guard, which is going into encampment there.

In spite of the serious auto accident which Dr. and Mrs. aMpes experienced near Big Bear about four years ago, the doctor has not lost his love for mountain tours and will take a vacation there in the near future.

The frantic effort of coal barons to prevent the publication of profit statistics indicates that they are still making expenses.

PRESS CONGRESS OF WORLD TO MEET IN HONOLULU

(By International News Service)

HONOLULU, Hawaii, July 8.—Invitations have been issued to publishers, editors and newspaper men in all parts of the world to attend the First Pan-Pacific Press Conference, which is to be a part of the Press Congress of the World, to meet here next October. The outstanding purpose of the conference is to accomplish the permanent organization of newspaper men scattered throughout the lands bordering on the Pacific Ocean.

"Is it not possible," the invitation inquires, "that we here at the Crossroads of the Pacific may be of service as a drop-off station and distributing center of news information? There as been much discussion on the subject, and it might well be taken up at the Press Conference.

"Dr. Walter Williams, president of the Press Congress of the World, has set aside a Pan-Pacific Day at the Congress, and the Hon. Charles J. McCarthy, Governor of Hawaii and president of the Pan-Pacific Union, joins in this invitation."

The invitation is issued by the Pan-Pacific Union, with headquarters at Honolulu. Alexander Hume Ford, secretary-director of the Union, is now on the mainland and will confer with Dr. Williams and other officers of the Congress with regard to plans for Pan-Pacific Day.

Because of the many races which dwell in the islands, newspapers and magazines are published here in English, Hawaiian, Portuguese, Japanese, Chinese, Korean and Filipino, and the editors of these publications are taking an active interest in the plans for the Conference and look forward to a large gathering of newspaper men, not only from Pacific lands but from other countries of the world.

To Discuss Pacific Issues.

Following the close of the Congress next October Hawaii will loom up as the logical center for the discussion of all questions and problems arising in the Pacific, in the opinion of those who are in charge of the Congress arrangements here.

Leading men of the Oriental races in the Hawaiian Islands are looking forward to the Congress as a vehicle for the furtherance of a complete understanding on problems and questions that have long been perplexing, and which at times have been gravely misrepresented in other countries.

It is probable that some of these questions, with which the world is familiar, will be gone into on the day which will be set aside for the holding of a Pan-Pacific Peace Conference as a part of the general Congress sessions. While this conference will be taken part in largely by editors, publishers and newspapermen from Pacific lands, it will be open to all Congress delegates and members, whose opinions will be invited.

In Hawaii the problem of the meeting of the East and West has been solved very successfully, and more than a score of races and mixtures of races dwell contentedly together without racial friction. The people of the Oriental and other races are taking a keen interest in the forthcoming Congress, and are doing their share in the perfecting of the arrangements.

The ancient Hawaiian sport of surf riding, both with native surf boats and outrigger canoes, is to be a feature of the programme of entertainment that is being arranged here for the Press Congress.

A ride for a distance of a mile or more, at express-train speed, on the crest of a great comber off Waikiki Beach, either in an outrigger canoe or on a board, is an experience that will be offered delegates. Duke P. Kahanamoku, world champion short-distance swimmer, and other well-know Hawaiian aquatic stars, will assist in the entertainment of the delegates to the Press Congress, and, under present plans, a swimming meet will be arranged at which the island champions, both men and women, will demonstrate their prowess.

PARISIAN WOMEN TAKE UP BUSINESS

(By International News Service)

PARIS, July 8.—The entrance of women into the field of directing French theatrical enterprises has taken on the aspect of real invasion.

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt and the late Mme. Repane were the first Frenchwomen to direct their own theatres. Today Mlle. Rolle directs the Dejazet Theatre. Mme. Cora Laparcerie, who formerly directed the Bouffes-Parisians, is now at the Renaissance. Mlle. Constance Maille directs the Marigy and Mme. Rasimi the Ba-Ta-Clan, besides supervising numerous revues. Jane Renouardt's new theatre is nearing completion and Maud Loti is about to assume the directorship of the Imperial.

To date most of the enterprises conducted by women have been quite successful.

A Timely Talk

BOSTON, June 8.—Love in a cottage was contrasted to misery in a castle by Dr. A. Z. Conrad, preaching at a local church. "Better calico-clad exuberance than silk-clad defection. Better a dollar watch ticking out moments of happiness than a diamond-studded chronometer measuring out moments of misery," philosophized Dr. Conrad.

PLYMOUTH PREPARES FOR TERCENTENNIAL

(By International News Service)

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 8.—This ancient town is a-buzz today with preparations for the coming tercentennial pageant scheduled for July 13 to 16. Sewing machines are humming as the women of this town fashion the costumes to be worn by the 1400 actors in "The Pilgrim Spirit," as the pageant will be known.

The men are engaged in constructing elaborate "properties," which include a replica of the Mayflower and a Norse galley.

Maine and Massachusetts waters are again navigated by "redskins," enroute here in birch-bark canoes to take part in the unusual production.

The lines for the pageant have been written by Professor George P. Baker, Harvard's most widely-known authority on the drama. The story begins with the early explorations of the Norsemen and ends with the World War. Thrilling scenes of action and scenes depicting the early struggles of the settlement will be enacted. Old hymns will be sung, old spinning wheels spun and ancient practices observed.

One way to make life soft for the great majority would be to provide easy cushions on all seats in the movies.

VACATIONIST HAS HIGHWAY 'HOUSE'

(By International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., July 7.—A trip to California is being made from this city in one of the most unique "vacation boats" imaginable. This "gasoline bungalow" is mounted on a two-and-one-half-ton truck chassis equipped with a motor from a five-ton truck.

The "voyagers," who are now en route to California in their "pullman," home, are Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Campbell, their daughter, Dorothy, 14, and their son, James, 16. This family plans to spend two or three months "vacationing," all of which virtually will be spent on the road.

The plan of building a "house on wheels" in which to spend his vacation was conceived by Mr. Campbell, who is a prominent oil operator of Tulsa. Mr. Campbell considers that the vacation for himself and family will be a very economical one. There will be no railroad fares and no "profiteering" prices for meals, accompanied by liberal tips to waiters.

"While the first cost is a considerable item, the trip itself should be made at a fraction of the expense of the same trip by railroad," Mr. Campbell stated. "But we intend to use this car from year to year, for it is built for service as well as for looks. There may be a few repairs from time to time, but even they will cost less than railroad travel and its accompanying expense."

Campbell's "highway bungalow" is sixteen feet long and six feet four inches high. There are quite a few windows which extend entirely around the car, causing it to resemble a street car.

Campbell's "car" is very compact. In addition to the driver's seat, there is another seat directly behind the driver's seat, on which the occupants may ride when they wish to view the scenery in front. Behind this seat is a commodious full-size berth, with a six-inch mattress that folds into a long, comfortable seat when not used for sleeping purposes. Above this berth is an upper berth, which fastens to the ceiling when not in use. A third bed is provided by fastening a specially-built set of springs to the opposite side of the interior.

Across from the lower berth is a table that swings downward and rests against the right wall, but which when raised provides a large dining table. The lower berth is used for seats at this table.

Underneath the lower berth are a dozen drawers that extend entirely to the wall. These resemble a filing cabinet. Behind the berths is a large clothes closet of sufficient size to hold the ordinary clothing of four persons. Adjoining this clothes closet is the washroom.

It is easy to see through people who are always making spectacles of themselves.

BARONESS WORKS IN A CALIFORNIA HOTEL

(By International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Baroness Ottily de Ropp, Russian noblewoman, whose fortune was swept away by the war and who is now working as a needlewoman in a fashionable local hotel, is battling life with a smile.

The baroness, who formerly had servants to do her every bidding, has hopes of soon advancing from her present position to much better circumstances.

"It is a little hard to take up this work," she said. "However, I am devoting myself to it and hope to learn."

The barones is the wife of the Baron William de Ropp, who was an intimate of many of the illustrious men of the imperial Russian regime and who is said to have owned a 10,000-acre estate in Lithuania. The couple came to America in 1915. The estate was devastated during the war and finally seized.

Marriage Unpopular

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, July 8.—Teaching and matrimony are no longer the alternatives of the college woman. This was demonstrated by the graduating class of 104 young women of Radcliffe College. Twenty-four occupations are shown in a census of occupations.

Thirty-one per cent of the class will teach; 9 per cent will remain at home; the same number will take up secretarial work; 7 per cent will continue study; 6 per cent will enter business fields; 5 per cent will take up art work, and others will follow medicine, music and social work. Four per cent have already taken up matrimony.

Many years ago nearly every family had nine children and about that many dogs.

CAPITAL A MENACE TO WORLD PEACE

By NEWTON C. PARKE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 8.—The alliance of great Powers that wrested victory from Germany is going to pieces through perfectly natural causes and despite all the efforts of statesmen to keep it together.

This is the opinion of Paul Louis, former chief editorial writer of the Matin and one of France's most brilliant publicists. He sees no hope for an end of the European chaos until the new process of transition is over.

"The idea that governments are in love with each other is one of the pleasantries of the day," writes Louis. "Alliances are formed with definite business objects, and when these objects are achieved the alliances end.

"The business of the alliance of 1914-17 was to defeat the Central Powers, and it did it. But now this capitalistic alliance is divided as we see each day. England and Italy, that is, their governments, think differently than France on the question of the Ruhr and Upper Silesia; England and the United States dispute about oil.

"In 1914 the mine owners, the steel interests and the shipping interests of England feared German competition and that is why they lent their aid to France. The Government of Rumania, in 1916, wished to profit by the circumstances to take slices from Austria and Hungary. But today Italy needs no more Austrian territory, and England thinks it is time to renew commercial affairs with Germany. That explains why England and Italy do not see the same way as France in affairs touching the Central Powers.

"It is the competition of the antagonistic interests of capitalists which is causing this evolution in the affairs of Europe. The present regime creates only insecurity and instability, for nothing stable for the peace of the world can be founded on the interests of one class."

MILLIONS IN GOODS DORMANT IN CHINA

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Forty million dollars in clothing, purchased during the war period by Chinese merchants from American and British firms, is today a drug on the Orient market and there is no hope of business relief in the Oriental republic until this immense stock of goods is disposed of.

This is the statement of E. C. Collinge, president of Collinge & Co., London, renowned export house, who returned here on the Japanese liner Korea Maru, direct from China.

"There are over 100,000 packages of goods stored at all the seaport warehouses, amounting to $40,000,000 in cold cash, that must be removed into the hands of consumers before business conditions in China for American and British firms improve," stated Collinge.

"My calculation is that it will necessitate fully twelve months before the Chinese people will need goods from outside markets. Until that time we can mark time or seek trade elsewhere.

"These goods were purchased at the peak of the market during the war. The turn came unawares and the prices dropped. Then followed the slump in buying power and the lowering of the exchange."

Don't become self-centered.
